Circular economy and health: It's mainly good news

12.06.2019 | Gdansk, Poland

Ülla-Karin Nurm, Director of the Northern Dimension
Partnership in Public Health and Social Well-being (NDPHS) Secretariat

Northern Dimension Partnership in Public Health and Social Well-being (NDPHS)

- NDPHS is a partnership of the Northern Dimension (ND) Policy
- 10 partner countries and 9 partner organisations
- 7 Expert Groups to work on:
 - Reduced impact of HIV/AIDS, TB and associated infections
 - Contained antimicrobial resistance
 - Reduced impact of non-communicable diseases
 - Reduced social and health harm from alcohol, tobacco and illicit use of drugs
 - Adequately addressed health and social needs related to chronic conditions and demographic changes
 - Strengthened occupational safety and health and well-being at work
- NDPHS is the PA 'Health' Coordinator of the EUSBSR

NDPHS Activities

- High-level ministerial dialogue
- Monitoring and assessment of the situation in the region
- Development of policy recommendations
- Facilitation of coordinated development and implementation of regional projects
- Dissemination of information, outreach and involvement of relevant stakeholders
- Raising the profile of health and social-well being

Circular economy and health

- Can circular economy contribute to the improvement of human health?
- What are the health risks and challenges related to circular economy?
- What can we do on individual, national and international level?
- How can the NDPHS as the Policy Area 'Health' contribute?
